DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 11/22/04 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 76 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mueller et al. (US 6,185,413) (hereinafter referred to as 'Mueller').

Mueller teaches a method of reducing a cost of transmitting data from a mobile data collection terminal to a remote host over a communication network having a plurality of channels including a wireless channel, comprising the steps of:

determining a location of the terminal (mobile station 1) relative to the host (destination set) (col. 7, lines 22-33);

Art Unit: 2876

determining the cost of transmitting the data from the location of the terminal over each channel (mobile radio network or service provider) to the host (col. 7, line 64-col. 8, line 4);

selecting the channel for data transmission based on the location of the terminal and the cost determined to be least (col. 8, lines 26-31); and transmitting the data from the terminal to the host over the channel selected with the least cost.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 77 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mueller in view of Pieterse (US 6,088,127).

The teachings of Mueller have been discussed above.

Mueller lacks the teaching of the step of determining a priority for the data.

Pieterse teaches the step of determining a priority of data wherein the selecting step is also based on the priority data (col. 8, lines 35-48).

One of ordinary skill in the art would have readily recognized that transmitting data in view of priority of the data would have been beneficial to the invention of Mueller for the purpose of arranging data so that time and energy may be conserved in trying to transmit less important data. Therefore, it would have been obvious, at the time the invention was made, to modify the teachings of Mueller with the aforementioned step as taught by Pieterse.

6. Claims 78 and 79 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mueller in view of Wang et al. (US 5,490,217) (hereinafter referred to as 'Wang').

The teachings of Mueller have been discussed above.

Mueller lacks the teaching of recording an image using an image capture device, and wherein the transmitting step includes transmitting the image.

Wang teaches transmitting a bar code (col. 4, lines 3-12).

One of ordinary skill in the art would have readily recognized that an image, particularly a bar code image, is one of a plethora of data which may be transmitted to a remote location for the purpose of conveying information to another source. Therefore, it would have been obvious, at the time the invention was made, to modify the teachings of Mueller with the transmission of an image as taught by Wang convey information.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments, filed 11/22/04, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 76-79 under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of the Mueller, Pieterse, and Wang inventions as discussed above.
